City Soon Must Vote On Bonds

It will take a million dollar bond issue to provide the necessary street and storm drain improvements for the City of Campbell so that the City may take its rightful place as "the hub" of the growing Santa Clara County. Such a bond issue must be floated within the next two calendar years.

This was the gist of the statement of Mayor John M. Chargin this week who emphasized that Campbell or no other city can "stand still" in the face of the progress that is being forced upon the cities through the continuous influx of people and industry.

Chargin revealed that the City Council is now studying means of financing such a bond issue through the income from the countywide sales tax which is now in effect.

The mayor believes that the City will have to vote on the bond issue either in the fiscal year of 1957-58 but certainly no later than the calendar year of 1958.

The million dollars (an approximate figure), according to the mayor, would be broken down almost equally between the two projects (storm drains and streets). The city engineer has estimated that an adequate storm drainage system would cost approximately $500,000 and with an almost equal amount going for street improvements.

Although the need for the improvements has long been uppermost in the minds of the City Councilmen, Chargin's statement this week was the first official word that such a bond issue was in the offing. The mayor in a talk this week before the Campbell Business and Professional Women urged the cooperation of all civic organizations in the support of such a bond issue when instituted. He told the BPW that such improvements were absolutely necessary, if the City was "literally to stay in business".

The mayor said that he felt that the average citizen would support such an improvement program if properly informed of the situation. Over the years, he said, bond financing was the cheapest way to finance such improvement projects and was the only way a small city could obtain the needed improvements.

TURKEY TROT!

The running of Campbell High School's traditional Turkey Trot and the coronation of the "Turkey Trot Queen" will be highlights at tomorrow's pre-Los Gatos-Campbell grid game rally at the High School.

The Queen will be crowned by the president of the school club which sponsored her. She will present the turkey trot winner with his prize—a live turkey. Later she will preside over the game with Los Gatos on Thanksgiving day.

The race will be over a one and one tenths mile course. Some of Campbell High's top distance runners will compete, under the direction of Coach Bill Priddy.

High School Band Has Big Season

The Campbell High School Band, currently having one of its most successful marching seasons under faculty director Bill Perkins, will appear Thanksgiving morning at 11 o'clock at the football game between Los Gatos and Campbell high, at Campbell's field.

Marching with the Band will be the "Buc" drill team, which is composed of 50 girls. It will assist the Band in formations.

President elect of the Band is student Don Peterson. Dave Gupton is vice president; Gay Williamson, secretary; and Wilma Zumwalt, student librarian.

Perkins is beginning his second year as director of the group. He is a graduate of the University of Utah.

Postmaster Grim Expects Record Christmas Mail

Postmaster Ira H. Grim this week urged the citizens of Campbell to shop early and mail early this Christmas season to facilitate the processing of the largest Christmas mailing in the history of the Campbell post office.

Every facility of the Campbell post office will be pressed into maximum service so that again this year, as in the past, Campbell post office will be cleared, if possible, of all Christmas mail by Christmas, the postmaster said.

Postmaster Grim also reiterated that December 1 is the deadline for accepting applications for employment at the local post office during the Christmas season. Grim estimates that 30 extra male employees will be needed to handle the mail from December 15 to January 1.

The postmaster also urged local residents to use care in wrapping and addressing to assure safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail.

THANKSGIVING ISSUE

Your Campbell Press this week comes to you two days early and is being delivered to all homes in the Campbell area. It was quite a struggle but we made it.

Dirt Will Fly Next Spring on Freeway

By next Spring dirt will be flying on the Route 5 Freeway through Campbell as the almost $6 million highway construction job gets underway.

According to the tentative time-table set up by the Division of Highways, bids for the construction of the freeway from Bascom Ave. in San Jose to Los Gatos (through Campbell), a distance of nine miles, will be called for in February. The bids will be opened in March and work is expected to get underway on the long awaited modern highway by April 1.

The California Highway Commission included this nine-mile stretch in its recently adopted 1957-58 State Highway Budget which is in excess of $350,000,000 for major state highway construction purposes, an increase of more than $100,000,000 over the budget adopted a year ago.

The nine-mile stretch has been allotted $5,777,000 by the Commission. For some time, however, state highway officials have been acquiring rights-of-way for the route. At the end of October, 185 of the total parcels needed had been obtained.

Both the Campbell City Council and the Campbell Chamber of Commerce played an important role in convincing the state highway people of the importance of completing Route 5. Local civic leaders joined with other county officials in presenting arguments before the State Highway Commission and it is generally conceded that because of their presentations that top priority was given the project.

The City Council in August 1955 passed a resolution urging the completion of the freeway and repeated its action again in July of this year. The Campbell Chamber of Commerce also presented a similar resolution this year. The local C. of C. was also represented by its manager, Sam Cava, at various hearings held on the issue.

When Rout 5 is completed it will relieve the heavy traffic load now being carried by both the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Winchester Road through Campbell.

Campbell Postman Retires After 35 Years as Carrier

NOW HE WILL HAVE TIME FOR HIS FLOWERS . . . Howard Smith (center) who retired recently after a 35-year career with the postal department shows his wife and son Jack some of the flower specimens which he plans to develop in his garden, a hobby for the former postal worker that he previously suffered for lack of time. In the lower photo the postman makes his last call (at his own home, 333 W. Rincon)—Campbell Press photos.

First Job Calls For Motorcycle on 'Goosetown' Route

Piloting a motorcycle through the chuck-hole-pock-marked unpaved streets of the "Goose Town" section of San Jose back in thee "twenties" was quite a "jarring experience" even for a young rural mail carrier, recalls Howard J. Smith, 333 W. Rincon, Campbell, who retired recently after almost 35 years of service in the postal department.

"Goose Town", Smith explains, was the name the postal employees and others applied to that section south of Willow Ave. in San Jose, now filled with substantial homes but when he first went to work for the department it was sparsely settled. Paved streets just didn't exist in that section of San Jose.

Career Worker

Smith, a career postal employee, retired officially from the Campbell post office on October 31. After 20 years with the San Jose office he transferred to the local office (at the time there were only four employees) in 1943. Fellow employees of the local office honored him at a dinner party at the Villa Felice to mark the close of his postal career.

Smith served under three postmasters in San Jose, John Chase, Sr., John Chase, Jr. and Victor Chargin but all his Campbell service has been under the postmastership of Ira Grim, who will retire next March upon reaching the retirement age.

Rural Mail Carrier

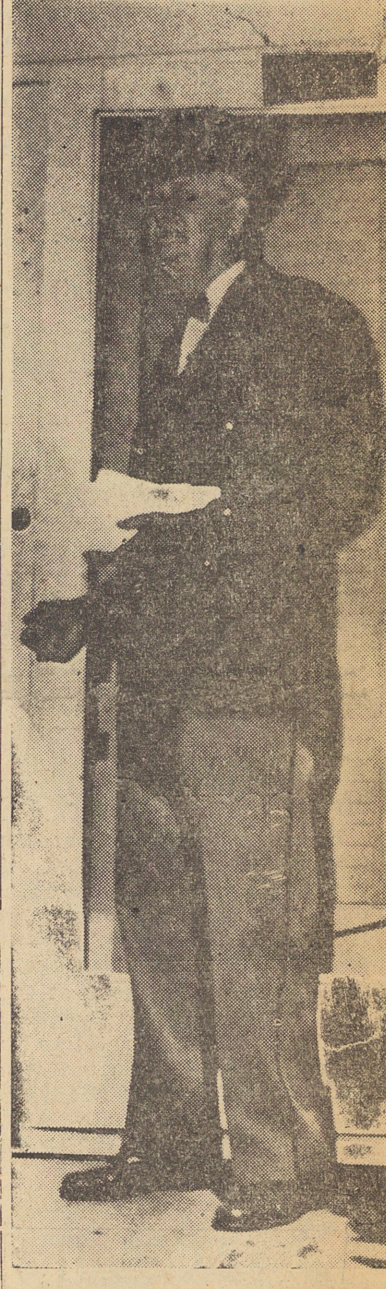
Except for the last two years, Smith was a rural mail carrier. Only two means of transportation were used during his postal career, the motorcycle (with side-car yet) and the automobile. (The San Jose office had retired their last horse the year before Smith went to work there). He carried Rural Route 2 in Campbell from 1943 until the route was closed in 1954 when he became a "mounted city carrier".

As a rural carrier Smith never wore a uniform but during the last two years he donned one. He wore his slate gray suit right through his final day on the route.

The main difference between a mounted city and a rural route, Smith explains, is in the number of stops. He recalls that when he first started in Campbell that there were only about seven stops on Budd Ave. Now that street is almost completely built up, as are so many more streets throughout the area where subdivisions continue to replace trees.

Now that he has retired Smith hopes that he will be able to devote more time to his favorite hobby, the raising of flowers. He has several species of Begonias, for example, that he knows he will be able to watch more carefully now that he has doffed his postal uniform.

The Smith have lived at 333 W. Rincon only since 1950 but have resided in the house they now occupy since they first moved to Campbell in 1936. The house was first located on Winchester Road but was moved in 1950 to its present location. During the last two years as a mounted carrier, their home was one of his "stops" in his route. Mrs. Smith said she had no complaints on the service during the years her husband was delivering the mail.



Born in Minnesota

The Smiths were both born in Minnesota where they were married in 1921. He came to California first in 1920 (His first job in San Jose was with Union Ice Co.) and returned the next year to Minnesota for his bride. Smith is a World War I veteran and was awarded the Purple Heart while in the service.

They have two sons, Jack and Bill, both are graduates of Campbell High School and attended San Jose State. Jack, who resides in New Jersey, with his wife and two children is employed as a civilian draftsman in the U. S. Signal Corps experimental laboratory.

Coincidentally he was sent to the Food Machinery Co. plant in San Jose on a special assignment and was in Campbell when his dad retired. He also attended the dinner given by the postal crew. This was Jack's first visit to Campbell in six years. Bill, the other son, is an engineer with the S & S Vending Co. in San Jose, and is married and has one son.

The retired postal employee has long been active in local Boy Scout work and is a charter member of the Campbell American Legion Post which is now combined with the Los Gatos post. He is also a deacon in the Campbell Congregational Church.

"I've been looking forward to my retirement", the career postal employee said, "but I won't be able to take it easy for some time. First I'll have to take care of the many jobs my wife has lined up for me. By the looks of things that will take quite a while. But I won't mind. As a matter of fact I like the idea."—G.V.

Thanksgiving Day

MESSAGE FOR 1956

Local Minister Writes Message

With the world again poised on the brink of the chaos that results from armed conflict and at a time when World War II and its subsequent "police actions" are still all too vivid memories, on Thanksgiving Day 1956 we in America should all pause for reflection.

The Campbell Press this Thanksgiving asked the Rev. Herbert Neale, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Campbell, for a Thanksgiving Message that would emphasize how much we have to be grateful for. Rev Neale's message is found in the adjoining column.

Particularly apropos is the fact that the Rev. Neale this summer spent 39 days behind the Iron Curtain on a Study-tour and this message has been written in light of his experiences and observations while there.—G. V.

I AM THANKFUL

Details of a Dormant District

What IS this Hospital District

By Bill Howarth

Since 1949 the City of Campbell has been a part of the West Valley Hospital District. This district has no hospital, has collected no taxes since 1954, and has a five-man board of directors which will receive three new members elected at a special election today (November 20) to take office January 1, 1957.

A hospital district without a hospital is not unique in California. Of the State's 50 hospital districts (as of June 1955) 36 had hospitals, which varied in size from 10 to 254 beds.

People Create District

The people create a hospital district to provide a hopsital. The usual way by which a hospital is financed and built is through the presentation of a bond issue. It conceivably can be done by tax accumulation, but this is a wasteful, lengthy and unpopular procedure. Also, state or federal aid helps districts to construct hospitals. The West Valley District has been removed from the State priority list of districts to receive State aid. This list is reviewed yearly.

The West Valley Hospital District has attempted to float two bond issues in its history. Both were soundly defeated. The first for $700,000, was in July, 1951; the second, for $800,000, in November, 1952. The people who cast votes clearly indicated both times that they did not want to spend money for a hospital.

Shortly after the district came into existence in 1949, it purchased a piece of property near Vasona Jct. The 10-acre site, with a use permit for a hospital, was bought for $16,400. The prune orchard, and rented dwelling and barn on the land give the district a small income. The land is now worth about $40,000. The accumulated tax money collected between 1949 and 1954 is invested.

$57,000 in Treasury

The district now has approximately $57,000 in its treasury. It must hold a special election every two years if the openings on the board of directors are contested. These periodic elections diminish the treasury, and the day will come when another tax will have to be collected to finance them.

No Taxes Now

The district was collecting 5 cents when it stopped taxing in 1954. Its limit is 25 cents. A majority vote of the board of directors is sufficient to institute a tax.

Present chairman of the board is William L. Mattenberger, a Los atorney. Secretary is Henry Frank, Los Gatos insurance counselor. The board has three vacant places to fill in 1957. There are four candidates.

Richard E. Ryan, of Campbell, who is employed at radio station KLOK in San Jose, is running for re-election.

Other candidates are, Jonathan Baker, Cambrian Park, the Rev. C. J. Miller of Los Gatos, and Wendell Hammon, insurance and real estate, Saratoga.

Favor Building

These men all favor the building of a hospital. Mattenberger believes that it is necessary to present another bond issue. He does not favor dissolution of the district because its money would go into the County's general tax fund. He believes, however, that the board of supervisors can "earmark" such funds upon the dissolution of a district, to be used some other way for the benefit of that district.

Frank also favors a try at another bond issue, for a hospital to be built by 1960. If this is defeated he feels that it would be in the best interests to dissolve the district and give its property in trusee to any organization or individual that would build a hospital on the site by 1960. He claims that the board of supervisors cannot earmark funds.

Ryan reports that he has talked to a number of people in the district and feels sure that to attempt to float another bond im-

On The Line in Campbell

He's now known as "Do it yourself Jolimay", not only because of his prowess as shop teacher at Campbell Grammar School but because his talents now extend to the obstetrics field. You see it's this way. On Saturday November 10, when Bud was preparing to rush his wife to the hospital for delivery of their second child, it soon became apparent they wern't going to make it in time, so Bud took over and delivered their new daughter, Carol Lynn, at 5:45. He did such a good job that the doctor said Mrs. Jolimay didn't need to go to the hosiptal. The Jolimays, who also have a 2½ year old son, Duane, live at 179 West Rex Circle.

The announcement of Kanes' appointment was made by Gordon A. The Campbell Press in conjunction with local business people today presents its "football page", fast becoming part of the traditional atmosphere of the annual "big game" between Los Gatos High and Campbell High School. The game takes place on the local field at 11 a.m. Thanksgiving Day. On the "football page" (page 8) individual pictures of the Bucs appear together with their individual statistics. On the same page also are pictures of the coaches and the cheerleaders. See you at the game

Carriers of The Campbell Press will be guests of the newspaper and its circulation manager, Vern Tacy at the football game Thanksgiving. Carriers wishing to attend the game are asked to contact Tacy by Wednesday and be at The Press building at 10 a.m. on Turkey Day.

Bucs Face Los Gatos High

Campbell High School will be the favorite when the Bucs meet Los Gatos Wildcats in the traditional Thanksgiving Day classic to be held at the local high school field. Kickoff time is 11 a.m.

The Bucs have a far superior record in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League but as is true in all "big games" past records mean very little when two traditional rivals meet.

Los Gatos has not won a single league game this year while Campbell has won one (Washington), tied two (Santa Clara and Fremont) and lost two (Mt. View and James Lick).

Since the series started in 1934 Los Gatos has racked up a far better record than Campbell. The Wildcats have won 15 to Campbell's 7 while one contest (1943) ended in a 0-0 deadlock. Campbell, however, has won the last four battles in a row, winning 18-6 in 1952; 20 to 0 in 1953; 44 to 12 in 1954 and 14 to 7 last year.

Campbell High Grad On Water Polo Team

Cibritt is 18 years old, weighs 165 pounds and stands 6.2 inches in height.

State Gets Big Cut From Horse Racing

Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller has reported that the State's revenue from horse racing during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1956, totaled $24,616,544—the State's "take" of the $436,149,378 wagered during the year at California tracks

Five of the six major tracks contributed $18,989,268, as follows: Del Mar, $1,705,623; Hollywood Park, $6,514,128; Santa Anita, $6,194,471; Tanforan, $3,221,536; and Bay Meadows, $1,353,510.

Camden High Wins Grid Title from Cubberly

Camden High School Cougars won the Little-Big Four Conference title on Friday afternoon by defeating Cubberly High School of Palo Alto 26-20 in a thrilling contest down to the wire.

The victory Friday was the sixth win in eight games for Coach Junior Morgan's prep footballers. The win gave Camden a 4-1 mark in league play.

Greg Rocha scored two touchdowns for Camden, one on a 24-yard return of an intercepted pass and one on a two-yard plunge. Risso smashed over from the three-yard line for another Cougar score while Sorenson on a 31-yard gallop accounted for the other TD.

Play of the Week

The play of the week was made by George Brodie of the Stanford Indians. Brodie went back and was going to pass he handed off and went back, got the ball again and threw for the touchdown. I went to see the ball game and thought it was very good even though my most favorite team lost.

Cal Loses

The California Bears lost a good game to Washington State by a score of 14-13. It looks like the Bears have a good chance for the cellar and they will end up in it if Stanford beats them and I think they will.

Lick Slides Past Bucs, 21-19, to Hold League Title Tie

By RICHARD FERGUSON

James Lick held onto the SCVAL league title Friday afternoon when they slid past the Buccaneers of Campbell 21-19. Lick is officially tied with Mt. View for the crown. Campbell is presently in fifth place with a chance of moving up to fourth depending on the game with Los Gatos on Thanksgiving Day.

Lick took a commanding lead in the first quarter by capitalizing on an intercepted Campbell pass for their first TD. Gallegos to Donohue on a short pass put the pigskin on the Campbell 3 yard line from where Bod Rudd plunged over to score. Two fifteen yard penalties hindered the Bucs from coming back and they were forced to kick on their own 30 yard line.

Lick returned the punt to their own 35 and proceeded to move the ball to Campbell's 35. Gallegos uncorked a 15-yard pass to Turner who snared the pass and scampered unmolested over the goal line. Campbell couldn't find itself as the quarter ended with the score 14-0.

Campbell came back fast in the second quarter when the line opened up and Bud Scribner scampered through for a 73 yard touchdown. Five 15-yard penalties with each side feeling the blow held the rest of the quarter at a standoff although most of the action was on Lick's side of the gridiron. Half time saw the score 14-7 with Lick on top.

Third quarter action was primarily along the ground with Dave Alvarez on a 35 yard run chalking up the most yardage. Second string Bucs saw action in the third quarter with Farley, Alvarez, and Henry doing their share. The Campbell line held the Comets to only four first downs in the third quarter.

Scoring came in wholesale lots in the final canto as Lick scored 7 points and Campbell pushed over 12. Lick's score came on a 45 yard run by Chon Gallegos who went right up the middle on a sneak play. Corbus started to take to the airways and hit end Frank Koontz twice for a total of thirty yards. Alvarez finally cut loose from the 17 and with the help of some fine blocking on the part of the Buc line slipped across the Comets goal line. With two minutes remaining in the game Corbus began passing in a final drive to boost the score. A 90-yard drive capped by a 25 yard pass from Corbus to Cal Vargus set the ball down on Lick's 3 yard line with five seconds remaining in the game. On a last second plunge Scribner added another score for Campbell. Extra points missed by Campbell made up the margin between the two clubs as the final gun sounded with the score 21-19.

Scoring:

Campbell, Scribner 2 X 1, Alvarez 1.

James Lick, Gallegos 1, Rudd 1, Turner 1.

Scoring by quarters:

Campbell	0	7	0	12	19
James Lick	14	0	0	7	21

More About

What IS Hospital District?

mediately would be foolish. The situation needs to be reviewed, he said. The board should wait until the people indicate that they want a hospital. He would favor donating the site to a private group for construction of a hospital.

He said the districts should allow "fringe areas," such as certain parts of Campbell, to withdraw before presenting a bond.

Baker, a salesman and engineer for the Pennsylvania Refining Co., is for action on the matter. He feels that it should be put to the people to decide whether they want a hospital or not. He is in favor of building a hospital either by a bond or by private enterprise. As the situation stands now, he said, the property is doing no one any good--some decision should be made.

The Rev. Miller is all for getting the program "off dead center." He feels that there is a great need for a hospital in the district, but he is not sure about the Vasona Junction site as being a desirable one. He would like to see a voluntary community effort started to push a hospital bond.

Hammon believes that the district needs a hospital now. He said that the recent withdrawal of the Glen Una area of Saratoga from the district was probably due to fear of taxation. It would please him to see the hospital built under private auspices. If a bond issue failed again he would consider dissolution of the district—if the supervisors could appropriate the district's money to benefit it.

Stanford Survey

The candidates all mention the Stanford Research Institute's survey report on the need for a hospital in the district. This report was paid for by the district in the hopes of informing the people of the extent of the need for a hospital, it never reached them, however, because the County Counsel's office ruled that taxpayers' money could not be used to circulate a condensation of the survey. Copies of the complete report cost approximately $1.00 to print. About 100 were printed and distributed to organizations and newspapers.

All the doctors practicing in the district were questioned in the survey. It was found that 47 per cent of the total hospital patients admitted to the three San Jose hospitals from the West Valley Hospital District in 1955 were patients of doctors who practiced in the district.

There was an average of 57 patients per day in the San Jose hospitals. Approximately 4 per cent of these were district residents. If all the patients from the district who went to the three San Jose hospitals had come to a west valley hospital, a 57-bed occupancy would have required a 76-bed hospital for normal occupancy, (the 57 is an average figure, therefore, the fluctuation in occupancy must be accounted for). 53 per cent, however, would not have come to a west valley hospital, because they were not patients of west valley district doctors.

Therefore, taking 53 per cent of 76, a 40-bed hospital would have been adequate for the year 1955.

100 Beds in 1960

By 1960, the report estimated, the bed needs would be from 92 to more than 100. This is based on the projected population figure of 76,000 persons in the district by 1960. The hospital would cost two and one half million dollars to construct, not counting equipment.

Once a hospital comes into existence, it must establish a maintenance tax rate over and above the general tax. In California the highest collected is 35 cents. Only 5 of the 34 district hospitals in the State are self-supporting. Large hospitals tend to be more able to support themselves than do small ones.

Residents of a district get no rate or admission preference at a district hospital. The fees must be in accord with the average general fees prevailing at private hospitals.

Under Family Doctors

One of the conveniences of a district hospital is that patients would be more sure of being under the care of their family physicians. Local general practitioners would naturally be drawn to a district hospital for the simple reason that for many of them it would be closer than a San Jose hospital. The geographical factor is an important one.

A hospital near Vasona Junction would offer distinct geographical advantages to people in the southern end of the district.

The boundaries of the district are as follows: In the north it extends to the intersection of Meridian and Moorpark avenues; in the south it extends into the mountain precincts above Los Gatos. It takes in all of Campbell, Los Gatos, Cambrian and Walnut precincts and Saratoga, except for the Glen Una area which recently withdrew. It includes only the Prospect 2 precinct in Cupertino.

Closer to Los Gatos

Los Gatos is close to Vasona Junction. Campbell is nearer to O'Connor Hospital. The district boundaries, in fact, include O'Connor Hospital. The site at present is difficult to reach. Both access routes, the San Jose-Los Gatos and Winchester roads, are slow-moving in the daytime and evenings.

The only alleviation to this condition would be the completion of the proposed routes 5 and 10, which, according to present plans, are to come close by the hospital site.

This, however, brings Campbell and other north western areas no closer to the site.

If emergency cases from Campbell would be taken to O'Connor Hospital as opposed to a distant hospital at Vasona Junction, then naturally Campbell people would not feel favorable toward financing that distant hospital.

Due to the great population influx into the district, there are many people living in it who do not know that it exists. When informed they say, "well, where's the hospital?"

It does seem incongruous that a district that has twice been told by the people that its purpose is not wanted should still exist.

It seems more constant that such a district should be dissolved, rather than to go on spending taxpayers' money for periodic elections.

Dissolution of such a district, however, is a colossal undertaking. 51 percent of the voters in the district must sign a petition. It is presented before the board of directors, which then calls a special election on the question.

Areas have from time to time withdrawn from the district. This involves the defining of an area's boundaries and the signatures of 15 per cent of its voters on a petition, which is presented before the board. An election is then called. If 51 per cent of the voters sign the petition in a defined area, the board can declare the area out of the district without an election.

The next board will have the opportunity to do one of four things: do nothing, present a bond, instigate a movement to dissolve the district or donate the site to a private enterprise to build a hospital.

The directors can choose to allow the district to lie dormant as it has for the past four years. They can test the people out on another bond. Four years ago they indicated they didn't want a hospital. Perhaps now they do.

Special districts are very hard to get rid of. Secretary of the board Henry Frank believes that if the petitioning is taken precinct by precinct it can be done.

Perhaps the board will see fit to donate their hospital site to a group that will build a hospital on it by 1960. If they can find anyone interested.

It seems high time that some decision was made.

Seniors Elect Ike In Mock Election At Campbell High

Campbell High School seniors went along with the landslide for Ike on election day when they cast 276 votes for the Republican candidate and 134 for Adlai in a mock election at the school. Enok Holtwick, the Prohibition party's candidate got seven of the senior votes.

Using sample ballots the senior class voted for County, State and National officials.

The seniors gave Senator Thomas H. Kuchel 266 votes to win over Democrat Richard Richards, with 135 votes. Senator Kuchel won the real thing too.

They gave Charles S. Gubser a large majority over Democrat Dr. William H. Vatcher, (338 to 68), in the race for the House of Representatives.

They also agreed with County voters on Bruce F. Allen, giving him 269 votes as opposed to 111 for Democrat William M. Harris Jr.

The only contest in which the seniors differed with the real election was in their choice of Joe Santora for supervisor; Supervisor Oran Slaght was given 97 votes while Santora received 165.

The seniors, as did State voters, trounced proposition 4 (oil conservation) by 322 noes to 85 yes.

As indicated by a survey conducted by the Institute of Student opinion, under the sponsorship of Scholastic Magazine, the seniors followed high school students throughout the Nation in their choice of President Eisenhower.

Out of a total of 117,717 high school students from all 48 states, 72,503 favored President Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon.

Baptist Church Slates Revival

Dr. Clayton Harrop, professor of New Testament interpretation at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Berkeley, will lead the revival at the First Baptist Church, 97 North First St. in Campbell, beginning Friday and continuing through December 2.

The public is invited to attend the meetings each evening at 7:30 to sing Gospel hymns led by E. H. Cowan and to hear the New Testament scholar expound the Bible.

Dr. Harrop received his A. B. degree from William Jewel College and the Bachelor of Divinity and Doctorate of Theology from Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

Local Muscular Dystrophy 'March' Begins Next Week

San Tomas Central Fire District will act as collection headquarters for this area's "March for Muscular Dystrophy Month", with members of Saratoga Jaycettes and Quito Sew and So Club, along with other volunteers, ringing door bells in this area November 27 to 29, to collect funds for the drive.

To further spark widespread interest in the drive, a television program sponsored throughout the country by Eagles Lodges, will be broadcast on November 28 at 8 p. m. and will be seen locally over KNTV Channel 11.

Local activity for the drive is in keeping with Governor Goodwin J. Knight's proclamation of the Period November 25 to December 15 as "March for Muscular Dystrophy Month". Governor Knight this week called on all Californians to support and give generously to the cause of "Defeating Muscular Dystrophy Next". Governor Knight was named Honorary State Chairman for the 1956 "March".

Funds for a continuation of the assault on this dread disease will be sought in a direct house-to-house solicitation. Muscular Dystrophy causes a wasting of the body muscular structure of the more than 200,000 persons, most of them children, who are afflicted.

Funds raised from the state-wide appeal will enable Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America to pursue its work in research, establishment of patient service clinics where MD victims may receive free care, and in providing an intensive public education program.

Most California counties have organized local chapters to conduct public education programs and patient service activities. Additionally, canisters in the shape of hour-glasses with the reminder "Time is Running Out" printed on them have been distributed in stores, schools and other public places for convenient giving of donations.

Volunteer workers are requested to contact their county's chapter and help in the organization of the Thanksgiving Marches which are the highlight of this year's March for Muscular Dystrophy Campaign.

Officers for the Santa Clara County Chapter Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc. are: Mrs. James B. Trovato, president; Harry Coffey, vice president; Mrs. Harry Coffey, secretary, and Lloyd Clawson, treasurer. Spencer Williams has been named chairman of the current drive.

Tool Engineers Claim Colleges Not Doing Job

Colleges are not recognizing the needs of industry is the claim of the American Society of Tool Engineers. So the ASTE wants to do something about it.

Sponsored by the Santa Clara Valley chapter of the American Society of Tool Engineers a special "Industry and Education Night" takes place at the Hawaiian Gardens tonight (Tuesday).

All 137 ASTE chapters throughout the country are emphasizing the fact that colleges are not gearing their engineering curricula to industry's needs and too few high school graduates are choosing engineering as a profession.

At the meeting tonight, a panel of leading engineers in this area will discuss education, the tool engineer and his place in industry. Panelists will be George L. Sullivan, dean emeritus, University of Santa Clara School of Engineering; Carl F. Kaiser, San Jose State College professor of engineering; Christopher A. Connor, headmaster of Menlo School; Arthur P. Kromer, chief manufacturing engineer of Ampex Corp.; R. G. Shriver, superintendent of manufacturing engineering of Westinghouse Corp,'s Sunnyvale branch and Phil M. Taylor, San Jose IBM branch chief manufacturing engineer.

The meeting will be held a 6 p.m. with dinner at 7 and the panel program at 8:30. Local ASTE officers urge teachers or others interested to attend. A recent survey by ASTE revealed that college and university engineering today is "completely unsuited and inadequate" to prepare engineers for on-the-job responsibilities. The survey also showed that about 25 per cent of the graduated engineers go into manufacturing and tool engineering. Some schools, ASTE claims, ignore manufacturing engineering entirely.

Navy Men Thank 'County Fairs' for Tasty Turkeys

As U.S. Navy men around the world sit down to their Thanksgiving dinners they will have cause to thank "County Fairs" for the excellent flavor of the turkeys.

Navy Food Service Teams have been touring the world since 1953, bent on improving the meals served aboard ships and at shore stations.

When the teams first started their two week visits to Navy galleys, resistance to their kitchen and dining hall tips developed from some of the old timers. They didn't like "outsiders" in their galleys, and the idea lingered that the food service team experts were holding an inspection.

The "County Fair" is the plan that the teams have adopted to counter this unfounded idea. At the area watch and judge the results of the visiting cooks and bakers.

As the pies, cakes, salads, meats and other dishes are turned out by the team of experts, local cooks judge and score them. While nobody gets a blue ribbon for "best in show", this scoring leads to lively, informal discussions of the right and wrong methods of food preparation. To get the feminine viewpoint, wives of the cooks are also invited.

Over 600 commands have been visited — and improved—by the eight teams stationed throughout the world. The idea for teaching teams was worked out by the Navy in cooperation with the Food Service Advisory Committee of the National Security Industrial Association, a group which has been helping the Navy since 1946 to plan better use of excellent food—at less expense to tax-payers.

Local Residents Attend Confab Of Farm Bureau

Three residents of this area attended the 38th annual convention of the California Farm Bureau Federation held in San Diego. The California Farm Bureau represents 62,000 California farm families and some 80 per cent of the state's nation-topping agricultural production.

Those attending from this area included Ernest J. Furtado, Given Steindorf, James St. Germaine. Delegates were present from 54 counties.

Departments and commodity sections, general sessions and an almost-around-the-clock shirtsleeved resolutions committee discussed California's agricultural problems and fashioned the resolutions by which the giant statewide organization operates on the basis of community "grassroots" thinking.

The annual banquet, tours of naval installations and the Tijuana border area, and San Diego's famous Balboa Park and zoo were among entertainment features.

Women

Richard Bradford Claims Bride in Sunday Afternoon Services Here

White mums and stock banked the altar at St. Lucy's Church in Campbell last Sunday when Miss Isabelle Delores Kirk exchanged nuptial vows with Richard Courtney Bradford in an afternoon double ring ceremony, with The Rev Denis Kennelly officiating.

Nuptial music, "Ave Maria", was sung by Miss Clorinda Di Lonardo accompanied at the organ by Miss Marilyn Ott.

Following her attendants down the aisle on the arm of her stepfather, Stanley H. Farmer, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a nipped in waistline, long sleeves coming to a point at the wrist, finished off with a scoop neckline bordered in a seed pearl embroidered design. Her very bouffant skirt was accented in the back with accordion pleated tiers extending to a chapel train. Her pillbox headpiece, in Chantilly lace to match her gown held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion lace. Her white prayer book held her cascade bouquet of white orchids, Phalaenopsis and fleur de amour, with her rosary entwined in the bouquet.

Bridal attendants' chromespun taffeta gowns were ballerina length with bouffant skirts and had large satin bows in the same peacock blue as their gowns, worn in the back above the skirt which had a pleated insert in the back. Long fitted torsos of their gowns were topped with boat necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. All wore long white gloves, pearl tear-drop earrings and matching bracelets. Topping their ensembles were headbands to match their gowns with short rhinestone studded veils circling their faces. The maid of honor carried a cascade of blue carnations with puffs of white maline, while bridesmaids' bouquets were crescents of white carnations with peacock blue maline puffs.

Miss Norma Mussler was the bride's maid of honor and bridesmaids were: Mrs. Mildred Kirk, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Merlyn DeMartini, Miss Patricia Golden, Miss Judy Kolze, and Mrs. Virginia Beard.

Little Michael Ganderton, cousin of the groom, in a white dinner jacket and dark trousers, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Stanley H. Farmer attended her daughter's wedding in a waltz length bouffant skirted gown of dove blue silk, and nylon taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice and boat neckline, cut low in the back. With it she wore a feathered hat in tones of light blue and gray, long doeskin gloves in neutral and clear plastic slippers. A white orchid corsage was pinned at her shoulder.

Mrs. Lowell Bradford, the groom's mother, wore a sheath of rosy beige over dark brown taffeta. Dark brown accessories and a white orchid corsage completed her costume.

White mums and stock decorated the Villa Felice in Los Gatos for the reception following the ceremony when the justweds toasted one another with champagne before cutting the first piece of their six-tiered wedding cake. A wedding bell, holding a miniature bride and groom, topped the pillared wedding cake. Between 300 and 400 relatives and friends of the young couple attended the reception.

When the couple left for their brief honeymoon, the new Mrs. Bradford wore a charcoal wool sheath with matching jacket, black patent shoes and bag and a feathered peacock blue hat. The orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet was pinned at her shoulder.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Farmer of 569 East Hawthorne Ave., in Campbell, is a Campbell Union High School graduate. Following graduation, she attended San Jose Junior college and was employed by a San Jose firm.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell W. Bradford of Carlyn Ave. in Campbell. He also is a Campbell Union High School graduate. He returned to Campbell earlier this year after spending nearly three years in Germany where he was stationed with the U. S. Army. He is now attending Armstrong College in Berkeley where he and his bride are now making their home.

Thanksgiving Observed at Grange Meet

Mrs. Cora Kaufmann read a brief story of "The First Thanksgiving" held by white men in this country, followed by a Thanksgiving prayer, at a recent meeting of Orchard City Grange No. 333.

On the same program, Fred Bentley sang "Aria of Eri Tu" by Verdi and "The Green-Eyed Dragon". Also in commemoration of Veterans Day, Bentley read the letter "To My Son". Mrs. Bentley accompanied her husband at the piano and she also presented a solo, "Elegy" by Nollet.

"Happy Birthday" was observed for the following members that evening: Nila Jones, Lois Scarper, Anna Peterson and A. A. Arnot.

Master B. K. Werner and Deputy John Gordon gave reports on the recent state convention, including report on activities of Youth Grangers.

Robert Wurfer stated that the local Grange had been awarded another gold star for community service work. Master Werner appointed A. A. Arnot, chairman of the Community Service Committee, to be assisted by Emil Biller and Herbert Shadle and supplemented by others as needed.

A Christmas Party will be held by the group on December 7 at the home of Mrs. Anna Hedegard in Campbell, was announced by Home Economics Chairman Sadie Proctor.

Election of officers for the coming year will be held next Tuesday. A potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. will precede elections.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Biller, Miss Ruby Crowe, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Locke were in charge of refreshments served at the conclusion of the evening.

FACULTY WIVES FORM TWO CLUBS

Because of their ever increasing membership, Campbell High School District Faculty Wives Club decided at their last meeting to form separate groups for Campbell and Camden schools as their meeting place could no longer accommodate the large group.

Mrs. J. Russell, who was president of the combined group, will continue as president of Camden Faculty Wives Club. Other officers are: Mrs. George Kemp, vice president; Mrs. Charles Crampton, secretary; Mrs. John Runcie, treasurer; Mrs. Junior Morgan, sunshine chairman, Mrs. Robert King, publicity chairman.

Officers for the Campbell High group will be elected at the next meeting which will be held in the home of Mrs. Sam Reed, 1921 Cabana Drive, San Jose on the evening of November 28.

Christmas Seals

Colorful '56 Christmas Seals marking the fiftieth anniversary of the Christmas Seal in this country, will be mailed out to 115,000 county residents last week. Proceeds support Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association's year-round county-wide program of TB prevention. Last year this program included free chest X-rays for 40,384 county residents to find hidden TB and other chest diseases.

Methodist Church Bazaar Planned

Plans are under way now for the Christmas Bazaar at the First Methodist Church in Campbell which will be held in Fellowship Hall from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday, November 30. Women's Society for Christian Service is sponsoring the affair.

Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and Campbell Women's Service Club will give the silver tea.

A wide variety of items, especially Christmas gift ideas, will be displayed, including plants, fancy work, baby things, baked goods, candy, beeswax candles, and many other types of articles. There'll be a fish pond for the youngsters, too.

Mayor Chargin Speaks to BPW

Failure of the flood control bond to pass in the recent election could result in another flood disaster, was one of the points brought out by Campbell's Mayor John Chargin when he spoke to Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club recently.

He went on to stress the need for more active participation in local government on the part of citizens in order that they may more fully understand the needs of their community. Ann Levin introduced the speaker.

During the brief busines meeting, it was decided that the club would "adopt" elderly women patients at the County Hospital as this year's Christmas project, which will include providing gifts for patients.

Ann Levin, Meta Bee and Gerry Furtado made up the committee for the meeting which was held in the home of their president, Emily McConnell.

EDITORIAL

Thanksgiving, 1956

Thanksgiving Day is purely American.

This one day is set aside to give thanks for our many blessings. And we in America have plenty of them.

Our long-standing heritage of liberty is something we all can be thankful for and is something that we never want to lose.

That, of course, is basic.

But all of us should pause this Thanksgiving and give thanks for our own individual blessings.

Our forefathers set aside a special day, so that at least once a year, each of us is made aware of the fact that we have much to be thankful for.

On this day we should pause in the hustle and bustle of everyday living and review just what it means to be living in America.

All of us, we are sure, will find that it is pretty wonderful.

What Do You Know About It?

By the time you read this, the election for the West Valley Hospital District will have been held. If you are a conscientious citizen and appreciate your voting privilege, you will have voted for three directors of the district.

But many will not have bothered to cast their ballots.

As we write this, we have no way of knowing what percentage of registered voters will have gone to the polls. But the percentage will be very small, we are assured of that.

There are hundreds of residents of this area who don't know that there is such a thing as a West Valley Hospital District.

There are many more who thought the district went out of existence some time ago.

There are others who are violently opposed to the district and what it stands for, maintaining that the district cannot possibly build the type of hospital that would adequately serve the people in the area.

There are still others who feel that even should a hospital be built the people in this area would not use its facilities.

All in all this West Valley Hospital District is quite a paradox.

It is a hospital district without a hospital and apparently there doesn't seem to be any hospital in sight in the foreseeable future.

The district owns some property on which a hospital could be built, but twice the voters of the district have turned down bond issues that would make the construction of a hospital possible.

By that we think it is safe to assume that the people in this immediate area do not want to be taxed for such a project, despite the fact that with the population growth, more hospital beds in the county are a necessity.

Some of our readers have become very irate over the fact that an election has to take place. They seem to think that the expense of an election is needless and unnecessary to a extreme, inasmuch as their mandate (at least here) has been that they are not interested in any development in the district.

Taking all these factors into consideration, The Campbell Press in this issue has attempted to clarify the situation to a degree by explaining what has happened, is happening and, in a sense, may happen in the West Valley Hospital District.

It is our contention that too few people know the score. For example, how many realize that no taxes are now being levied in the district and that there is enough income from the property the district owns to pay part of the administrative costs?

How many know what an involved procedure would be necessary if the district were to go out of existence?

The Press assigned Bill Howarth, journalism intern from San Jose State College on our staff this semester, to try to find out just what was going on hospitalwise.

The results of his research, his interviews, and his just plain digging are found in this issue.

We hope some of the answers to your many questions will be found in his story.

George Vierhus

Anonymous letters as a rule are tossed into the waste basket in our office without any misgiving on our part.

Even if they contain some gems that could serve a useful purpose, we have a pretty firm policy (as have most newspapers) in that respect.

We receive a number of such letters from time to time. Some of them have made us mad while others have done our ego good. We think it can be safely said that anonymous letters for the most part are the work of cranks or weak-kneed individuals who have not the courage to make their own convictions known publicly.

They would like to have the newspaper carry the ball for them but don't feel like running any interference.

There may be a legitimate reason for the writer to remain unknown but we can easily take care of that by not publishing the names. But we still must have the names for our own files.

—o—

A case in point is the letter we received this week signed "Two Dissatisfied Teen Agers".

There is no question in our mind that the two have a beef but their case is weakened right off the bat, as far as we are concerned, when they didn't put their own names on the letter.

We will even break precedent and quote from their epistle this time but, if they expect to get any more support from this corner, they had better let us know whom we are supporting.

"Two Dissatisfied Teen Agers" claim that the older generation maintains that the younger generation is going to the dogs but in Campbell they don't seem to be doing anything to stop it.

"Where are the youth centers, play grounds, parks, etc.? We have been promised these, other cities have them, but where are they?" they ask

"And what about shows: Isn't anything going to be done about the one in Campbell?

"Dissatisfied Teen Agers" also want to know "this business of closed campus of the high school? We seem to recall that on Campbell Ave., off the campus, there is only one trash can."

"Scatter a few around," they advise, "and maybe you will get results."

They close with the request: "Please print this for the few people who are making it bad for the teenagers."

—o—

We are not much when it comes to giving advice to youths but we would suggest that our "Two Dissatisfied Teen Agers" visit us in person, if they don't feel like signing their names to their letters.

For our own satisfaction, if for nothing else, we would like to get their reaction to things in general and learn what it is that they want.

Such projects as youth centers, play grounds, parks etc. cost money but we think the adults of the community could be sold on them provided they felt that was what the teenagers wanted.

Frankly we don't know what the kids want. We are not sure that the kids do either.

Playgrounds, youth centers and parks can be darn expensive just for the birds.

—o—

We went to some length some time ago to describe in this column the activities (or inactivity) of our golf editor, Mario Saia, meat department owner at the Double AA Market, Mario, as The Press golf editor, "covered" (and we use the term loosely) the recent Western Open Golf Tournament in San Francisco.

All we received about this great golf classic from him was a sketchy verbal report.

We have now learned (we cannot reveal our source) that our golf editor has again let us down.

—o—

Not only was he present but he was also a participant in a recent golf match that rivalled the Open in a number of ways (not skill, however).

Teamed with Tony Raffanti, another local business man, Mario took on Tony Oreglia, owner of the Double AA Market and Pete Aeillo on the greens of the Rinconada. Saia and Raffanta, both members of the club, defeated Oreglia and Aeillo and won a steak dinner apiece for their efforts.

It was the first time that Tony Oreglia or Pete Aeillo had played the game but their heads were bloody but unbowed after the fray. (We didn't learn what kind of handicap had been given but Tony and Pete reportedly shot 118 each)

A return match in two weeks has now been arranged and the two duffers have been granted the privilege of boning up on the game during the interim.

So golfdom has apparently gained two recruits.

But still no story from our own golf editor.

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Representative Charles S. Gubser

There is a complete change of atmosphere in Washington now, caused, of course, by the end of the election campaign. For many months, every action, every word, every consideration of the various government departments reflected the uncertainty of what would happen in November. Now that the voting is over, government can again resume "normalcy", and decisions can be made on the basis of certainty. And while the Executive Branch goes back to its important functions, the Members of Congress are preparing to return to Washington for the 85th Congress.

The legion of newspaper, radio, and television correspondents who normally cover Congress when it is in session, had a busy time this year. Most of them were assigned to cover one or several aspects of the election campaigns, either from Washington, or from their home states. Others were switched to help out on different "beats" where their special knowledge could be helpful. The international events, for instance, immediately caused a marked reinforcement of the State Department and Whit House press contingents, and many a newspaper recalled its Washington man to do stints at the editorial desks at home.

Meanwhile, the halls of Congress are not entirely deserted, either. Momentous events such as the changes in Poland and Hungary, and the eruption of the Middle Eastern War, very much concern the Congress even if it is in recess and even if its members are engaged in political campaigning. As representatives of the American people, they do have a responsibility. The President, therefore, immediately called in influential leaders of both houses and from both political parties, not only to inform them, but also to consult with them. Consequently, there is increased activitiy in Congressional offices and committee rooms. An increasing number of Congressional license plates is evident around Wishington, and—if the situation should warrant it—the Congress could be called back into session to deal with matters at hand.

Generally speaking, there is relief that the elections are behind us. Now wen can concentrate on the work to be done, and we can make our decisions solely on the merit of issues while relegating politics to the shelf.

"How old am I?"

asks Mrs. Guy A. Bobb, 2146 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California

Once the great-aunt of the family was noted for her crocheted doilies. Today, the family is more apt to marvel at how young she looks!

Here's one good reason: labor-saving household appliances. They've taken over so many of the back-breaking chores that used to age women long before their time.

Take Mrs. Bobb . . . favorite great-aunt of nephew Jason. She leaves most of her hard work to appliances—and she's 68!

This is the beauty of it: With P. G. and E.'s bargain rates for gas and electricity, you can run a houseful of appliances all day long for about half the price of a lipstick.

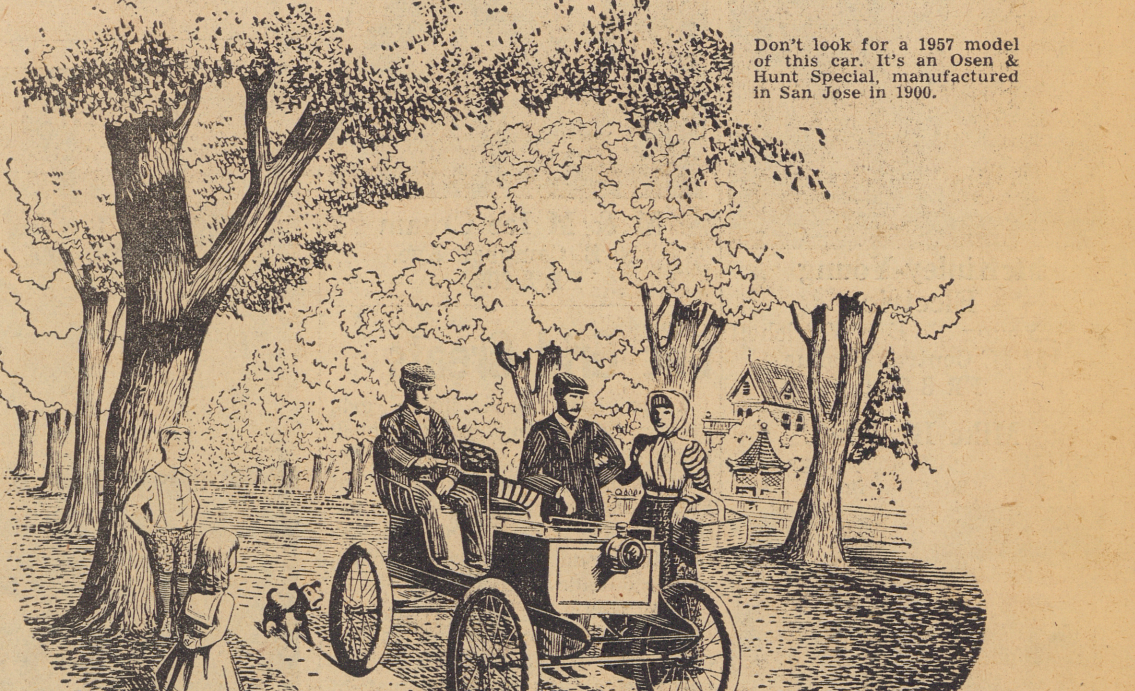
90 YEARS
OF DEPENDABLE WATER SERVICE



Don't look for a 1957 model of this car. It's an Osen & Hunt Special, manufactured in San Jose in 1900.

When the first automobile came off the assembly line of San Jose Ford plant, it was not the first car to be made in this area.

Although only the old timers may remember it, the racy Osen & Hunt Special was made in San Jose from 1900 to 1903. Total production was six cars, before the "assembly line" stopped for good. Several other early cars were made here, also.

But even back when this Osen & Hunt Special cut a fancy Sunday afternoon figure on The Alameda, San Jose Water Works already had a reputation for dependable service to its customers.

Since 1866 water service has been ready and waiting for every new home, or store, or industrial plant built within the service area. And because San Jose Water Works is financed by private investors, expansion of the water system to serve community growth has never required a penny of tax money.

San Jose Water Works itself is a large taxpayer. Last year the company paid $400,802 to the support of state and local governments, and an additional $708,000 in Federal income taxes.

Buc Grid Greats

There have been many grid greats turned out at Campbell High since 1934 when the Bucs first donned football uniforms but Billy Wilson, now a star end on the San Francisco 49ers pro team, has probably made the biggest splash in the outside grid world.

Billy was a member of the 1944 championship team of Campbell and was a big factor by his pass-catching ability in the defeat of Los Gatos (25-13) for the first time.

Many other Campbell High players have gone on to college stardom on the grid. Present college football rosters include Gary Lukehart (Oregon State); Eric Protiva (Stanford) and Tom Clark (Fresno State).

No Football Before 1934

Campbell High School did not field a football team until 1934!

The Bucs have come a long way since that time. In 1952, 1953 and 1954 the Campbell High varsity gridders won the championship of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League.

In 1934 when the school trustees relented and allowed football to become part of the athletic program of the high school, the Bucs played an informal schedule. The junior varsity of Los Gatos defeated Campbell 6 to 0 that first year.

Here's the Record

1934—Los Gatos 6, Campbell 0
1935—Los Gatos 13, Campbell 0
1936—Los Gatos 25, Campbell 0

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

1. Daffodils are a good investment, for their quality hold up from year to year. The largest bulbs, which cost a little more per dozen, are actually the best value.

2. Don't forget the Ranunculus and Anemone. Each bulb will produce a great many flowers.

3. This is the time for the fall garden cleanup. Rake up all leaves and place them in a compost pile. Spray the entire garden with a fall cleanup spray.

4. The fragrant Daphne which blooms during the dark wintry days can be planted now.

5. It's still not too late to plant Cuthbertsons and regular Spencer sweet peas.

Fall Color Trees

Although Californians enjoy the mid fall weather that makes this state a most desirable place in which to live, many gardening Californians would also like to enjoy the brilliant display of autumn colors found in the colder eastern parts of this country. Such fall color is not impossible here, says the California Association of Nurserymen, for several species of ornamental trees provide showy autumn displays even in the mild climates of California.

Three trees well known as fall color performers are the Chinese Pistache, Maidenhair and Sweet Gum. The Pistache (Pistacia chinensis) produces vivid red to orange autumn hues with soft, finely textured foliage. The Chinese Pistache will withstand heat and drought, making it a fine tree for the valleys and along streets and roadsides. A mature Pistache measures about 35 feet tall and broad. A deciduous tree, it will tolerate very low temperatures and is generally pest free and long lived. Its roots are not invasive.

Also deciduous the Maidenhair (Ginkgo biloba) is actually a living fossil—a broad-leaved conifer and sole survivor of a Chinese family of trees. The Maidenhair, so named because its leaves somewhat resembles the fern of that name, will adapt itself to all areas of the state, varying in each, however. In general it has an open, airy look about it with leathery light green leaves in the spring and summer which turn butter yellow in the fall. The Maidenhair is not troubled by any serious pests or diseases and it can be grown successfully as a lawn or street tree or in containers.

A narrow, pyramidal or columnar form of 60 feet is reached by the mature Sweet Gum (Liquidambar Styraciflua). Its maple-shaped leaves turn from soft green to yellow and red in the fall. The Sweet Gum will tolerate zero or 10° temperatures and salt air. Also deciduous, the Sweet Gum makes an extremely handsome lawn or street tree and can be planted in rows to make high screens.

All year interest is beautifully provided by the Japanese Maple (Acer palmatum). Spring growth is red, summer's soft green and fall brings scarlet leaves; in the winter the bare branches are colored greens and reds. The Japanese Maple needs protection from the sun and dry wind in the hot valleys. It's best suited for coastal situations. Plant it as a lawn tree, in gardens and patios and in tubs and pots. It can even be grown indoors next to a floor to ceiling window.

If your grounds are large, there's another Maple that puts on a beautiful fall color show. It is the Sugar (A. saccharum) which does well in cold areas and in milder climates too. It usually reaches 40 to 50 feet; its fall foliage is soft pinkish apricot.

Beautiful fall indoor decorations are provided by the Oriental Persimmon tree (Diospyros Kaki). It grows slowly to 20 or 40 feet in a round-headed form. Leathery leaves of dark green turn yellow and red in the fall and in November (right in time for Thanksgiving table decorations) the bright orange fruit ripens. The Persimmon must have a regular fertilizing program or deep rich soil to assure good fruit production.

Rhododendrons

True aristocrat of the garden, the evergreen Rhododendrons comprise one of the largest families in the plant kingdom—some 800 species—and therefore offer an extremely wide selection of colors and species for different climates.

There are many well known varities of Rhododendrons that have long been favorites of California gardeners. Alice, a rosy pink, is one of these; it grows low and compact: Pink Pearl is light pink in large trusses, Unkonwn Warrier, a bright red.

Among those Rhododendron varities that will tolerate full sun in most areas, is Purple Splendor, a deep royal purple of medium height, and Susan, lavender blue, medium height. Most Rhododendrons do best in partial shade. Beauty of Littleworth, a white speckled crimson, is a tall member of this group. And there are several hardy hybrid Rhododendrons for coastal areas and sheltered spots inland such as May Day which is scarlet colored and low growing.

Planting of Rhododendrons may be done at any time of the year from balled or container stock, says the California Association of Nurserymen. But most nurseries have the widest selection of Rhododendrons from December through March. Set Rhododendrons in planting holes at least twice as wide and one third deeper than the rootball. Line the bottom with gravel to assure good drainage and add a planting mixture of garden loam, peat moss and decayed leaf mold. Then set the plant in so that the top of the ball is slightly above the surrounding soil level. Fill in with the planting mixture, firm the soil as you fill, and water slowly to remove air pockets. Place a mulch of decayed leaf mold or shredded redwood bark over the entire surface to preserve moisture, protect the tender hair roots and provide future food. Water generously and feed when needed.

Camellia Hybrids

The Camellia is a favorite flower for California gardeners because of the unusual, exotic flowers and highly ornamental waxy-green foliage. And the unusual Camellia has in its midst some hybrids that are even more unusual.

The All America selection Cinderella is one of these. It is a C. japonica sport and has the distinction of being the first chosen by the All America Camellia Society formed five years ago.

Tinsley is the name of an unusual Camellia variety. Its blossoms are small in size, something like a gentleman's boutonniere, which makes it popular with men. The outside petals of the flower are red; the inside is white. A species cross is J. C. Williams, which was hybridized in England. Its unusual quality is the great number of flowers it produces—almost one at every leaf. The blossoms are smaller but the individual plant give a longer flowering season.

Hong Kongensis, another unusual Camellia hybrid, is a very new variety with long leaves unlike the usual Camellia foliage. Its flowers are single and rose colored; new growth is a deep purple-red, attractive enough to make it worth planting just for this color, says the California Association of Nursery men.

Almost 10 years ago several new Camellia reticulata varieties were brought into California from China, and after growing in experimental gardens several have been made available to gardeners, including Shot Silk, Purple Gown and Crimson Robe. New C. Sasanqua varieties are also available now: Pink Snow, Jean May and Ocean Springs which can be grown as shrubs, ground covers or vines.

Temptations, when we meet them at first, are as the lion that reared upon Samson; but if we overcome them, the next time we see them we shall find a nest of honey within them.

Municipal Chorus Presents 'Messiah' On December 3

Handel's "Messiah" will be sung for the 31st consecutive December by The San Jose Municipal Chorus Monday evening, December 3, at 8:15 P.M. in the Scottish Rite Temple, San Jose. Singers from the entire Santa Clara Valley will participate in the production.

Reserved seats may be secured by a Chorus Patronage, information concerning which may be obtained at Chorus Headquarters, CYpress 3-0304. General admission seats are open to the public without charge.

LeRoy V. Brant will conduct the performance, as he has on every prior singing of the oratorio by this Chorus. He will be assisted by Lena Guilbert at the organ and by Barbara Simmons at the piano. Both instrumentalists are from San Jose.

Soloists will be Georgia Eldridge Prugh, soprano, from Berkeley; Margot Blum, contralto of San Francisco; Orva Hoskinson, tenor, of San Francisco; and Ellsworth Walston, bass, of Oakland All these soloists have had several appearances with the Chorus on prior occasions.

Assisting in "Messiah" from Campbell is Mrs. Madeline Duncan, soprano, member since 1951.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for any one else. —Charles Dickens

To the Rescue

This dramatic photo, symbolizing the help given to all child victims of muscular dystrophy by the nation's fire fighters, shows Milwaukee fireman Dennis Schultz tenderly holding Thomas Ignatius, whose eyes reflect hope and confidence in his benefactor. Fire fighters are in the forefront of the March for Muscular Dystrophy during Thanksgiving to aid victims of the crippling and fatal disease.

Camden Students Work on Variety Show, Class Play

Two major activities of the drama and public speaking courses at Camden High School this year are the junior class play and the variety show.

The junior class play and its cast have been chosen and rehearsals are underway, according to Mrs. Helen S. Andres, public relations officer for the Campbell High School District.

The play's cast is under the direction of Loy Elser, who teaches speech and drama. The school's little theater stage is being used for rehearsals as well as the larger stage of the school cafetorium—where the play will finally be presented.

The drama and public speaking courses at the school are offered in correlation with the English courses. The aim of the courses is to give students an appreciation of good drama and to develop in them the ability to communicate clearly in speaking situations in every day life, and to give them a background in the skill of making public addresses.

Included in the variety of class activities are, one-act plays for invitational audiences, learning of basic acting techniques, taking of stage directions, pantomimes, panel discussions, and short skits or scenes from long plays.

With the addition of the senior class to the three-year-old school next year, there will be a full time drama course offered. A senior class play is proposed as the major activity for that class.

If I have but enough for myself and family, I am a steward only for myself and them; if I have more, I am but a steward for that abundance for others.

—George Herbert

California Revenue Shows Big Increase

Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller, has announced that California's General Fund revenues for the first four months of the 1956-57 fiscal year totaled $307,102,228—soaring $39,466,156, or 14.75 per cent—over the same period last year.

"An increase of $25,936,605 in sales tax revenue reflects the fact that about $16,000,000 was cleared into the Treasury at the end of October, whereas in 1955 the collections were not cleared until November," said Kirkwood.

Every man is useful to his kind by the very fact of his existence.
